

Special recommendations for the correct installation of SPCMAX in Windows Vista.

SPCMAX Automotive Diagnostic Scanner runs on Windows Vista platform.

This note helps to install it and run it on Windows Vista.

Please follow these instructions and recommendations for optimal operation of your SPCMAX on Windows Vista.

During installation

1. To install software double click on "Install.exe"

It can also be automatically installed by the Installation Wizard.

When executing "Install.exe", the following screen will appear:

Click on "Run" to continue installation.

2. The "User Account Control" will ask if you allow the execution of the software. The screen will show: "An unidentified program wants access to your computer". Click on "Allow" to continue installation.

3. After this installation starts. The following screen will appear up to 3 times:

Just click "OK" and installation will go on normally.

4. Installation goes on and the following screen will appear:

Here choose "Install this driver software anyway" and installation goes on. The following screen will appear up to 2 times.

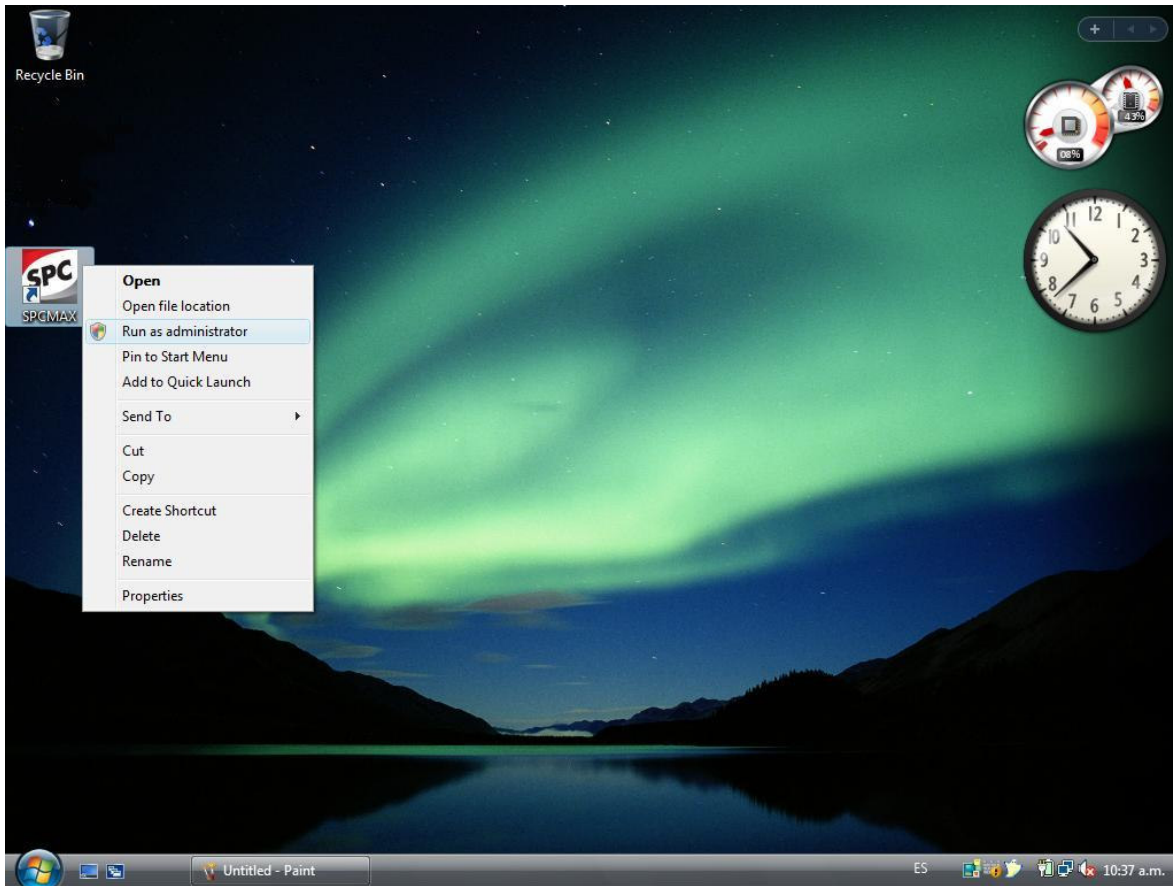

After this installation comes to the end and the system restarts to finish installation.

---

While using:

In order to run correctly SPCMAX software, follow these instructions:

1. Click mouse right button over the SPCMAX icon in your Desktop. The following screen will appear:

2. Choose "Run as administrator"
3. Software will load and will be ready to use.

Condistelec is actually working to avoid these inconvenient in the future.

For furtherer assistance contact: info@spc960.com.

Thank you for choosing SPCMAX.